Methods of Evaluation

Evaluations will be based on attendance at departmental seminars and evidence of attendance at non departmental seminars. Students can miss up to 2 seminars in our series. Up to 1 seminar can be outside of our departmental seminar series and can be substituted for any missed seminar. Documentation of attendance at other departmental seminars is a written summary of the seminar content submitted to the course coordinator before the next scheduled seminar (please keep us in the loop if this will occur). Examples of other seminar series here at the HSC are the Dept. of Physiology and Functional Genomics, Dept. of Neuroscience, Dept. of Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Dept. of Anatomy and Cell Biology, and the Dept. of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.

Grading Scheme

Course Policies

This course will be delivered in-person. Faculty, Postdocs and students who are presenting in the classroom are encouraged, but not required, to wear a mask.

If you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms (<https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html>), please use the UF Health screening system (<https://coronavirus.ufhealth.org/screen-test-protect/covid-19-exposure-and-symptoms-who-do-i-call-if/>) and follow the instructions on whether you are able to attend class.

Students with Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center by visiting www.disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

The DRC is located on the main UF campus. ASA (Office for Academic and Student Affairs) works closely with the DRC to ensure student accommodations are met in the classroom and during exams. Melissa Cox in ASA assists in coordinating exams and meeting recommended disability-related requirements for students with accommodations (melissacox@ufl.edu).
